Subject: - Highley Family Records

Your copy of the Highley Family Records is being mailed to you today. I am sure you will be interested in the finished volume, which probably includes upwards of 95% of the maximum records that could have been compiled, had it been possible to secure complete data of every family. Completion of the records has been materially aided by your assistance in supplying data of your own family and in some cases, information and data of other families as well.

Presumably, the records are as complete as possible through June '52.

These records are sent with the writer's compliments. There is no "price tag" attached, since it would not have been possible to have achieved the degree of completeness represented had it not been for your assistance, nor has it been the intention to make a commercial enterprise of the project. It is hoped that this collection of records, in one single source, will now serve as a foundation upon which can be built, as time goes on, a still more comprehensive family record, - a chore I shall leave for another to perform, however.

The writer wishes to make a few simple requests, as follows, in connection with the mailing of these records, namely:

1. In order that my files can be kept up to date, will you kindly acknowledge receipt, promptly, of your copy of the records?

2. Please review the records of your immediate family at least, - and any others of which you have positive information, - and advise me of any corrections, or additions. Note that the item most likely to be incorrect is that pertaining to dates, these if wrong, usually being different by exactly one year. Every effort has been made to make an absolutely correct transcription of the data as furnished me, and several control checks were employed during the process to insure the final record being as correct as the data from which it was transcribed. Secondly, please check the name spellings. Thirdly, any corrections in places of residence, etc., some of which may have changed. Lastly, information of additional births, deaths, or marriages, will be of interest. If enough of this correction and addition material is sent in, it is the present intention to supplement the records with this material before the end of the year.

INTRODUCTION

The writer's interest in data of his own personal ancestry is one of several years' standing, and has resulted in the previous publication of four separate volumes of family records pertaining thereto. These records were devoted to the paternal and related lines, whereas the current volume is the result of the first attempt to assemble records pertaining to the maternal and allied lines. These personal records have been expanded to include all available known data of the specific Highley line described in Chapter II.

The family of Highley is, without doubt, of English origin. The writer has no specific data of that origin, and the lack of experience in English research will account for the omission of records of the family's beginnings in England. Mr. A. M. Highley, of Ann Arbor, Mich., is of the opinion that Mr. Frank Highley, of Richmond, Ind., had experts trace the family, but the latter says such is not the case. He does advise, however, that his uncle G. E. Highley (born Morgan Monroe Highley), did go to England and had a record of some of the Highley family there, but the present location of such records is not known. The writer was referred to a daughter of G. E. Highley (Mary Highley), who advises that she knows nothing of the existence of such records.

As the title indicates, this volume deals with but one specific line in America. Evidence which appears in the appendix to this volume, will reveal that it is reasonable to assume a relationship with other families of the name, although the possession of the name does not in itself establish proof of such relationship, as an examination of the following paragraph will show.

During the preliminary searches for background material, it was learned that a record of a Highley family had been published in 1898 by Dr. G. N. Highley of Conshohocken, Pennsylvania. It bears the title "A Short History of the Highley Family", and consists of some 31 pages of records. An inquiry directed to the Long Island Historical Society, whose files include a copy of the booklet, revealed that the records pertain to the descendants of Hendrick Heilig, born in 1700, died May 14, 1775, in Cheltenham Twp., Pennsylvania. He is identified as the first ancestor in America, and was naturalized in 1749, later purchasing (in 1762), a farm in Providence Twp. He married Susanna Rittenhouse. The inference is that he was of German extraction, as he settled in a German speaking community. Some of the family retained the spelling Heilig, others Anglicised the name to Highley. Further correspondence, this time with Mr. Highley's widow, of Conshohocken, disclosed that Dr. Highley died in 1929, and a subsequent letter from Mrs. Highley's nephew, also named George N. Highley, of Malvern, Pennsylvania, brought the added information that the family had originated in Holland from whence they had come to Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, about 1734. Mr. Highley adds that most of the descendants live in that state. It is readily apparent that we are dealing with two distinct and un-related families.

A preliminary start was made in the fall of 1941 on the search for records of the family. The writer's great-aunt, Mrs. Lydia Hamilton, was instrumental in laying the ground work for the search by advising that one of her brothers, Constantine J. Highley, had the family Bible of their father. Little more was done at that time, other than to secure a copy of the records in the Bible. Such of the writer's spare time as could be devoted to the accumulation of family records, went into the compiling of the Van Wagnen records, so that it was not until the spring of 1948 that an active campaign was started to accumulate the records incorporated in the following pages. Mrs. Hamilton continued to be of valuable assistance and through the several key contacts suggested by her, it was possible to expand the list of working contributors of data to approximately 70 persons, and through the combined efforts of those individuals it has been possible for the writer to compile a virtually complete record of the descendants of James Highley and Mary Wright.

In a work of this nature, errors are bound to occur despite precautions taken to prevent them. Every effort has been made to keep the records free of such errors, but if any are found, it is requested that the writer be notified promptly.

CHAPTER I

The Highley Family in America

The name Highley, of English origin, identifies the original family - who adopted the name - as "dwellers at the high-lea", or high meadow. (Surname Book and Racial History by Susa Young Gates 1918, page 440).

The difficulties in attempting to trace the English ancestry (unless the family is of royal lineage), are apparent when it is considered that one cannot trace back of 1538, when the first law was passed requiring the keeping of parish records, most of them actually beginning about 1550. (Ways and Means of identifying Ancestors, by Evan L. Reed, 1936, p. 5; published by the Ancestral Publishing and Supply Co., Chicago, Ill.).

The tradition that the family had its origin in America in Franklin County, Virginia, has been a matter of general information for several generations, and is undoubtedly correct. Franklin County was formed in 1785-1786 from Bedford, Patrick and Henry Counties, the latter two bordering on the North Carolina border. As now constituted, Franklin County is bordered on the east by Pittsylvania County and on the west by Floyd County. (Evan L. Reed, p. 102). Roanoke County also borders on the west. There is reason to believe that the family may have had association with Campbell County, as will be explained on the following page.

The period in which the family became residents of Virginia can be approximated within the space of a few years. It is quite probable that none of the family was in the War of the Revolution as an examination of John H. Gwathmey's "Historical Register of Virginians in the Revolution, 1775-1783", published in 1938, reveals a complete lack of any persons of the name, although a Rudolph Hiley is mentioned at page 377. In like manner, Marcus Brumbaugh's "Revolutionary War Records", vol. 1, Virginia, 1936, lists no persons of the name. However, Mr. A. M. Highley, a descendant, seems to recall some statement to the effect that certain members of the family had served in a war with England. Perhaps the reference was to the War of 1812.

Nell Maria Nugent's "Cavaliers and Pioneers, vol. 1, Abstracts of Virginia Land Patents and Grants 1623-1800", lists a Susan Higley (p. 404), and a Jonathan Higly (pp. 542, 281, 549). This last name was probably Higby. Listed at page 424 are "Richard Jones and Jonathan Higly (Higley), 640 acres in New Kent County, January 25, 1662". Nothing in that source to suggest Highley.

George Cabel Greer's "Early Virginia Immigrants, 1623-1666", (1912) lists no one by the name of Highley, nor does Horace Edwin Hayden's "Virginia Genealogies" (1931). Examination of Virginia G. and Lewis G. Pedigo's "History of Patrick and Henry Counties, Virginia" (1933), reveals nothing of value, nor does Maud Carter Clement's "History of Pittsylvania County, Virginia" (1929). Bishop Meade's "Old Churches, Ministers and Families of Virginia", 2 vols., 1861, reveals no records of the Highley family.

Census records of Virginia for 1783 list no family of the name. The 1790 census, destroyed in 1814 in the burning of the Capitol in Washington, might have contained vital data of the family. The "State Enumeration" for Virginia, 1784, shows Rudolph Hiley, Hampshire County. The Maryland census for 1790 shows Frederick Highley, Baltimore County, with 2 males over 16, 2 under 16 and 2 females. The North Carolina census for the same year lists a Michael Hiley, Rowan County.

Possibly the earliest record of an individual who might be of the line of this volume, is included in Hinshaw's "Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy", vol. VI (Virginia), at page 825 of "Marriage Bonds of Campbell County, Va.", showing 1786 - JAMES HIGHLY (notice spelling) and NANCY NEWBERRY, with Seckville King listed as Surety. The possibility that he might have been the one who was the forbear of the Highley line of this volume is further discussed in Chapter II. It appears unlikely that he could have been a Virginia resident for very long prior to 1786.

Perhaps the most tangible records encountered, are certain marriage records included in Marshall Wingfield's "Marriage Bonds of Franklin County, Va., 1786-1858", published in 1939, at page 114 as follows; (all surnames spelled Highly);

JAMES HIGHLY, Jr., and POLLY WRIGHT, daughter of MARY and JOHN WRIGHT, Dec. 23, 1810. Surety, Samuel Akers. The writer firmly believes this James Highly was the progenitor of the Highley line of this volume. Furthermore, it is not impossible that he was the son of James listed in Hinshaw's Quaker records referred to above.

John Highly and Susannah Brown, June 9, 1801. Married by Samuel King.

Thomas Highly and Patty Brown, daughter of Lucy (Brown) Aug. 22, 1795. Married by Randolph Hall. Surety James Highly. (This might have been a second marriage for Thomas, if he was father of Thomas, Jr., listed next).

Thomas Highly, Jr., and Phebe McWaine -guardian Franky Calley. Dec. 30, 1810. Surety, Samuel Akers. Married by Wilson Turner.

William Highly and Mary Coger, Feb. 8, 1808. Surety, James Smith. Married by Wilson Turner.

Examination of the records on the preceeding page , leads to a theory that the fathers of James Highly, Jr., and Thomas Highly Jr., were brothers (both sons married in 1810). It also seems plausible to suggest that William, and John may have been sons of either James, Sr., or Thomas, Sr. There can be little doubt that all of the Highly's listed were related. Furthermore, numerous families bearing the name Highley, are probably descended from some of the individuals named on the preceeding page , other than James, Jr., who is the subject of this volume. It is also possible that others of the name do not descend from Virginia sources. The reader is referred to the Appendix for references to some other lines.

A proposed volume "A History of Franklin County, Va." by the compiler of the Franklin County marriage records, seems not to have been published, altho the compiler made mention of it in his volume of marriage records.

Louise Pecquet du Bellet's "Some Prominent Virginia Families", 4 vols., lists no families of the name of Highley, nor do the Edward Pleasants Valentine Papers, 4 vols., covering records of numerous families. Clayton Torrence's "Virginia Wills and Administrations, 1632-1800", lists no Highley wills.

Bible records clearly establish the family line back to the James Highley of this volume. Furthermore, it is the writer's theory that this James was, in reality, the Jr. of the marriage records already referred to, which if correct, would indicate his father as James, Sr., thus accounting for another generation. The basis for the theory of descent from this specific James, Junior, evolved from the fact that one of the children of James of this volume, was named Wright Highley. It is well known that it was customary to perpetuate the surname of the mother, by using it as the given name for a son, therefore it seems logical to assume that Polly Wright of the marriage records was the mother of the above mentioned Wright, and hence the wife of James Highley, Jr. The theory was strengthened immeasurably with the receipt of definite vital records from Mr. Omar M. Highley of Converse, Indiana naming the wife of James as Mary Wright, with date of birth of the first child given as Nov. 23, 1811. It is well known in genealogical research that the nickname Polly was often used in place of the formal name Mary, thus leading to the opinion that in these Highley records, the reference was to one and the same person. It should also be noted that the date of marriage given as Dec. 23, 1810, matches perfectly with the date Nov. 23, 1811, for birth of the first child. The records in the succeeding chapters , are in keeping with the above theory.

Insofar as the Wright family is concerned, Mr. Greer's volume already mentioned, lists a large number of families of the name, at pp. 372-373. So too, does Mr. Gwathmey's volume, at pp. 849-850, where numerous John Wrights are listed. The census records include many families of the name, as does also Wingfield's volume of marriage records, pp. 249-251. Torrence's "Virginia Wills and Administrations 1632-1800", pp. 472-473, includes several Wright families. The Valentine Papers, make no mention of the family. Mr. Brumbaugh's volume lists several of the name, as does also Nugent's volume.

The existence of so many families of the name, and particularly so many individuals named John, will probably present an obstacle difficult to overcome, in attempting to trace the specific John who was father of Mary (Polly) Wright. If this line can be expanded upon, the writer may attempt to trace it for later publication.

The generation to which any member of the family belongs can be readily determined from the following table:

1st. Generation.....	James Highley. #1
2nd. "James Highley #2
3rd. "#3-11
4th. "#12-72
5th. "#73-200
6th. "#201-482
7th. "#483-818
8th. "#819-912

Of the 61 individuals (#12-72), in the 4th. generation, 33 left descendants; 6 married, but had no descendants, and 22 were unmarried.

Of the 9 individuals (#3-11), in the 3rd. generation, all, but one, left descendants.

CHAPTER II

Family of James Highley, Jr.

Accepting the theory of the preceeding chapter, in regard to the identity of James Highley, Jr., the following lineage can be set up:

1st. generation.

1. JAMES HIGHLEY, Sr. Family tradition has it that the father of the James Highley whose descendants are listed in this volume, came from England to Virginia, and if the writer's theory outlined on page 3 is correct, then James' father was James, Sr. Furthermore, if James, Sr., was one and the same person with the James referred to in the marriage record noted on page 2, then he was a resident of Virginia as early as 1786, either in Campbell County, where the marriage record is found, or Franklin County where the family settled. Campbell County lies to the east of Franklin, the respective county seats being only about 40 miles apart. The wife of the James named in the Campbell marriage record was NANCY NEWBERRY, and she, with James, could have been the progenitors of the Highley family of this volume. They may have had sons John and William, as well as a son named in the marriage records of Franklin County (referred to at page 2), as:

2nd. generation:

2. JAMES HIGHLEY, Jr., born 1788/1789, died in Grant County, Ind. July 13, 1861, age 72 years, the date of death, and his age, being inscribed on his gravestone in Vernon Cemetery, about eight miles south of Wabash, Indiana, on the south bank of the Mississinewa River (near Somerset). The family tradition that he was born in England may be correct, in the light of the findings relative to the probable earliest settlement of the family in America. However, the Bowen Publishing Company, in its "Biographical Memoirs of Grant County, Ind.", 1901, p. 879 refers to both James and his wife as natives of Virginia. This tends to lend support to the writer's theory that James was son of the James whose recorded marriage 1786, appears in the Campbell County records, and would indicate that James, Jr., was therefore a native of Virginia, his father having been married about 2 or 3 years at the time of birth of James, Jr. There seems little doubt that the wife of James, Jr., was a native of Virginia, as the Wright families were numerous there even as early as the 1784 enumeration (census).

James married, Dec. 23, 1810, in Franklin County, Virginia, MARY WRIGHT, born April 18, 1789, and named in the marriage record as POLLY, daughter of MARY and JOHN WRIGHT. (Information in the possession of A. M. Highley, names Mary's father as AMBROSE WRIGHT. James died in Richland Township, Grant County, Ind., but the date of his death is given incorrectly as 1860 in the "Memoirs referred to above. His wife Mary, died Oct. 4, 1856, at age 67 years, 5 months, 20 days (according to her gravestone in Vernon Cemetery). This would set the date of her birth as April 14 instead of April 18 as previously given.

It is very probable that James had brothers and sisters , as well as cousins, and it is therefore to be expected that others of the name, some of whom are mentioned in the appendix, are distantly related to the families listed in the main text. Mr. A. M. Highley advises that a brother of James moved from Virginia , to southern Kentucky, at the time James went west to Indiana, (about 1846-1848).

Edward Highley has furnished Omar Highley , his cousin , the following information concerning the westward migration of the family of James Highley, Jr., and the data was sent on to this writer. The information was secured in 1925 by Edward Highley from LeRoy Highley, eldest child of Clark Highley, a son of James, Jr. and is substantially as follows:

"In the fall of 1843, under the leadership of John Whiteneck of Franklin County, Va., James Highley (#2) and his family , consisting of his wife Mary (Wright) Highley and children, Clayborn, Clark, Lydia, Nicey, Mary Ann, Wright, John, James, and Thomas , came from Franklin County, Va., to Union County, Ind., and three or four years later, with the exception of the oldest child, Clayborn, they all came to Grant County, Ind., arriving in the fall , 1847". There they settled in what is now Richland Township , in the vicinity of Mier and Converse, where James lived for the remainder of his life.

James (#2) entered land in the Township , within an area of not more than two miles square, in the Indian Reserve of Indiana. Omar Highley now lives on the farm at Converse, Indiana, entered by John Highley (#9), located in about the middle of the area in which all the other farms entered, are located. Clark (#4), also lived and died in the same locality. Wright (#7), sold his property and moved to the northern part of Indiana, where at least a part of his farm was in Berrien County, Mich.

The date of 1843 given for the year of migration westward , does not seem to agree with the facts evidenced by dates relative to other events. One of these is the date of marriage of James' son, Wright, to Rebecca Myers, a native of Union County, Ind., in 1841. Also to be noted is the marriage in 1838 of James' daughter Lydia, more than likely in Union County, after the family started westward. More specific evidence of an earlier date for this migration appears in the Lewis Publishing Company's "Centennial History of Grant County, Ind.", vol. II, 1914 , page 1396 , indicating that James' removal from Virginia to Union County, in Indiana, occurred when his son, also named James, was nine years of age. Born in 1827, this would set the date of removal to Union County at about the year 1836 instead of 1843, and would indicate a longer residence in Union County.

Both the Biographical Memoirs referred to on page 5, as well as Lewis Publishing Company's "Centennial History of Grant County, Ind.", vol. 1 (1914) page 288, show that James came to Grant County in 1846, and the former volume shows that he entered 80 acres in Section 13 of Richland Township, in that year. Brant and Fuller's "History of Grant County, Indiana", 1886, page 420, locates the property as being on the east part of the farm of Clark Highley, son of James, with settlement given as about 1847. This date agrees with the information given by Edward Highley. However, Kingman Brothers' "Combination Atlas Map of Grant County, Indiana", 1877, page 23, lists James in Richland Township in 1845 and notes that the first election was held in April 1845 in James' home. This is also noted in Brant and Fuller's volume, p. 421.

The family of James Highley were among those who united with the Church of the Brethren in Richland Township. (Centennial History of Grant County, Indiana, vol. 1, p. 622).

I am indebted to Omar Highley, of Converse, Ind., for virtually a complete list of data of the children of James. An interesting sidelight concerning how these records were found, is recorded in Chapter IV.

James was the father of nine children, six sons and three daughters, all probably born in Franklin County, Va. Biographical Memoirs lists only eight, having omitted Wright.

3rd. generation, 9 children, as follows:

3. CLAYBORN HIGHLEY, born Nov. 23, 1811, died May 28, 1879. Married (1) in March 1834, ROSA MACMAHAN, born Dec. 12, 1812. She died Sept. 10, 1869, and Clayborn subsequently married (2) Cynthia Hensley, who died in 1916. See Chapter III for data of Clayborn's descendants.

4. CLARK HIGHLEY, born Oct. 11, 1813. Died in Richland Township, Oct. 7, 1888. Married, Aug. 26, 1842, in Union County, Indiana, TELITHA WRIGHT, born Aug. 4, 1820, died Feb. 9, 1893. See Chapter IV for data of their descendants.

5. LYDIA HIGHLEY, born Mar. 6, 1815 in the Shenandoah Valley, Va. Died Feb. 17, 1872. Married, Aug. 8, 1838, ELIAS CULVEYHOUSE, who was born May 15, 1815 in Nashville, Tenn., died June 21, 1900. See chapter V for data of their descendants.

6. NICEY HIGHLEY, born April 17, 1818. She was deceased prior to 1901 when the Biographical Memoirs were published (p. 879). She married JACOB STEELMAN. Lived in Michigan or Northern Indiana. I have been unable to secure much information of her. See Chapter VI for partial data of their family.

7. WRIGHT HIGHLEY, born Oct. 10, 1819 in Franklin County, Va. He died Sept. 6, 1902. Married, Mar. 11, 1841, in Union County, Ind. REBECCA MYER(S), born June 18, 1825 in Union County, died July 28 1898. See Chapter VII for data of their family.

8. MARY ANN HIGHLEY, born April 5, 1823. Died in 1898. Married (1) JACOB MYER(S). Married (2), ELIAS CULVEYHOUSE, widower of her sister, Lydia. See Chapter XV for data of Mary Ann's descendants.

9. JOHN HIGHLEY, born May 10, 1825. Died Dec. 12, 1904. Married, Dec. 25, 1849, MARY PENCE, born April 29, 1829, died December 24, 1876. After her decease, John married (2), Phorla Lennon. See Chapter XVI for data of his descendants.

10. JAMES HIGHLEY, born Nov. 11, 1827, died July 6, 1891. Married in 1847, SARAH MYER(S), born Oct. 6, 1830, died Oct. 10, 1915, a sister of Rebecca and Jacob Myer(s). See Chapter XVII for data of James' descendants.

11. THOMAS HIGHLEY, born June 10, 1830. Disappeared when a young man, and according to Omar Highley, none of the family ever found what became of him. He came to Indiana with his parents and stayed around awhile, later going to the northern part of the state, disappearing when his parents made a trip there. He is said to have been unmarried, and was deceased prior to 1901, when the "Biographical Memoirs....." were published (page 879), that source stating, however, that he died in Richland Township.

Rebecca, Jacob, and Sarah Myer(s), referred to in the preceding listings under #7, 8, 10, were sisters and brother, the children of SAMUEL MYER(S) and SUSANNAH KINGERY, the former born in Pennsylvania in 1804, died in Grant County, Indiana, in about 1832 when his daughter Sarah (born 1830) was a small child. His wife was born in Virginia, Sept. 26, 1804 and died at age 87, per Lewis Publishing Company's "Centennial History of Grant County", vol. 2, p. 1422. Family records show Aug. 24, 1891 for date of her death. The Myer(s) family moved to Grant County from Union County in 1847. (Centennial History....., vol. 2, p. 1396).

In the pages which follow, Chapters III, IV, V, VI, XV, XVI, XVII contain records of the families descending from seven of the nine children of James Highley (#2). Chapter VII lists only the children of an eighth child, Wright, and the descendants of seven of Wright's thirteen children (the only ones who had issue), are listed in Chapters VIII to XIV, inclusive.

CHAPTER III

3. CLAYBORN HIGHLEY, born Nov. 23, 1811 in Franklin County, Virginia. Died May 28, 1879. Buried in Elkhorn Cemetery, a few miles north of Richmond, Ind. He apparently lived in Union County, Indiana, most of his life. He married (1), in March, 1834, ROSA MACMAHAN, born Dec. 12, 1812, died Sept. 10, 1869. They lived about 4 miles north of Liberty, Ind.

Mr. Dellis Myers of Liberty, Ind., has furnished the writer with copies of certain land records, showing that Clayborn bought 8 acres, Mar. 17, 1835 from Nicholas Druly, located in the N. 1/2 of the N. E. grant of Jan. 12, 1821. In 1843 he purchased from Christian H. Kingery, 135 acres, and in 1846, 45 acres were purchased from Susannah Myer.

Clayborn is said to have descended from Highley families in Essex, England. Persons of the name are now living in Hoo, a village in Kent, England.

Clayborn married (2) CYNTHIA (.....) HENSLEY, who died in 1916. She is said to have then been in her 90's. She is buried in the Richland Cemetery, 4 miles north of Liberty, Ind.

Clayborn had 10 children by his first marriage:

12. ISHAM HIGHLEY, born Mar. 23, 1835. Died Aug. 25, 1838. Buried in Elkhorn Cemetery, Richmond, Ind.

13. HENRY HARRISON HIGHLEY, born Sept. 17, 1836. Died Sept. 14, 1925. Married, June 14, 1868, SUSAN BULLA, born Feb. 28, 1847. Died in July, 1916. Both buried in Elkhorn Cemetery, Richmond, Ind. Wayne County History shows they settled in the south half of Section 26, Boston Twp., Wayne County. Date of marriage also seen as June 30.

4 children:

17. HARRY BULLA HIGHLEY, born April 3, 1869, near Boston, Wayne County, Ind. Died Nov. 21, 1949 at Fort Worth Texas, to which place he had removed in the fall of 1948. This list was given to Omar Highley, by Mr. Brumbaugh, and the records in the list have been incorporated in this volume. Mary Ann had no children. CHAPTER VI

FAMILY of NICEY HIGHLEY (STEELMAN)

6. NICEY HIGHLEY, born April 17, 1818. Date of death not known. Married JACOB STEELMAN. Said to have removed from Union County about 1847 and settled in northern part of Indiana. However, the "Biographical Memoirs of Grant County, Ind.", 1901, p. 879, state that the family was living (in 1901) in Michigan. Lived near her brother Wright Highley (#7) whose farm was part in Indiana, and part in Michigan. Little information has been found of Nicey. So far as now known by the writer, there were only three children.

CHAPTER VII

FAMILY of WRIGHT HIGHLEY (#7)

7. WRIGHT HIGHLEY, born Oct. 10, 1819, in Franklin County, Va. The date was furnished by a grandson, Frank Mann, and by the records of a daughter, Nancy Jane Highley. It is also given as such, on his gravestone, but the year appears as 1820 in the Bible records of his son Constantine. Wright married in Union County, Indiana, Mar. 11, 1841, REBECCA MYER(S), born June 18, 1825 in Union County, daughter of Samuel Myer(s) and Susanna Kingery, the former a native of Fayette County, Pa., the latter a native of Virginia. An earlier reference to them is found at page 8 of this volume. REBECCA died July 28, 1898. She and Wright settled first in Union County, Ind., and according to data in the possession of Dellis Myers of Liberty, Ind., Wright purchased from Christian Kingery, in 1845, 95 acres of land in the county. About two years later he moved to Grant County where he settled the Saxon farm in Richland Twp., according to Brant and Fuller's "History of Grant County, Ind.", 1886, p. 420. Later removed to Berrien County, Mich., where he farmed. Wright died Sept. 6, 1902, and both he and his wife as well as her mother, are buried in the Hesston Cemetery near Rolling Prairie, Ind. Records in the Bible of their son, Constantine, state that all their children were born in LaPorte Co., Ind., but this is believed incorrect.

They changed to the Brethren branch of the Dunkards, breaking away from the "old order" Dunkards. The original Highleys are said to have been (Scotch) Presbyterian.

13 children, 6 sons and 7 daughters:

42. SAMUEL HIGHLEY, born Dec. 19, 1842, in Union County, Indiana. Died Feb. 1, 1843. Probably buried there.

43. SARAH ANN HIGHLEY, born Dec. 22, 1844 in Union County. Died Oct. 20, 1928. Married May 19, 1868, as his second wife Dr. LEVI MANN, mentioned in Chapter IV, p. 22. He was born Feb. 22, 1831, died Oct. 23, 1888. See Chapter VIII for her family.

44. THOMAS W. HIGHLEY, born Jan. 1, 1846 in Union County, Ind. Killed in the Battle of the Wilderness in Virginia, May 6, 1864, age 18 years, 4 months, 6 days. His service record, obtained from the office of the Adjutant-General in Washington, reads as follows:

"Thomas W. Highley, age 18 years, birthplace Union Co., Indiana, occupation farmer, was enrolled Mar. 19, 1864, at Peru, Ind; was mustered into service Mar. 22, 1864 at Indianapolis, as a private, Company A. 20th. Indiana Infantry. He was killed in action May 6, 1864 in Battle (of the) Wilderness, Virginia".

Franklin County, Virginia
and
LaPorte County, Indiana

Records in this appendix are found in whole, or in part, in the following volumes:

1. Illustrated Historical Atlas of LaPorte County, Ind., by Higgins, Belden and Co., 1874, pages 3, 48, 53, 75.

2. History of LaPorte County, Ind., by Jasper Packard, 1876, pages 118, 197, 232, 272, 274, 276.

3. History of LaPorte County, Ind., by Chas. C. Chapman and Co., 1880, pages 403, 406, 826.

In 1831 or 1832, James Webster came to LaPorte County, and settled in that part of Kankakee Township, later to be designated as Pleasant Township. His son-in-law, JAMES HIGHLEY, is said to have come at or about the same time, and settled in Section One in the northeast corner of the township, with his wife Mary Webster, whose name is listed in the Webster family record on pg. 48 of the Higgins volume.

Although credited with having come from Virginia the Webster family did not move directly from there to LaPorte County, and it seems plausible to assume that the account as given by Higgins at page 48, can be applied to James Highley as well. James Webster, son of Samuel B. Webster, was born in Franklin County, Virginia, and about 1810, having heard of the fertile lands in the Northwest territory, he moved his family, consisting of his wife and two children to what is now Union County, Indiana about six years before Indiana was admitted as a state. He remained there about two years and then moved to Fayette County, where he lived about eight or ten years, and then moved to Franklin County. He returned to Fayette County after about six years and remained until March 1833, when he moved to LaPorte County. This would seem to indicate that his son-in-law James Highley might have preceded him to LaPorte County. It is of interest to note that the Highley family, described in the main text of this volume, also came from Franklin County, Va., and settled first in Union County, Indiana.

James Highley is mentioned at pages 232, 272, 274 of Packard's volume, and a Samuel Highley is listed at page 276, as having voted in 1836. Perhaps he was a brother. James was a member of the first grand jury to actually serve for the County, in the June term, 1833. (Higgins, page 3, and Packard, page 197).

James Highley and his wife Mary Webster were residing in 1874 in St. Joseph, Missouri, and he is listed in local history books as "an old Settler". His name appears in the earliest directories of that city. He probably was the ancestor of most, if not all of those bearing the Highley name and now living there and in St. Louis. No more was found of Samuel Highley. There can be no doubt but that the James of this appendix was in some way related to the James Highley, Jr., of the main text of this volume, perhaps of one generation later. This is derived from the statement to the effect that James Webster had but two children in 1810, the same year in which James Highley, Jr., and Mary Wright of the main text were married, and it seems reasonable to presume therefore, that Webster's future son-in-law James Highley was a very young boy, at that time. This son-in-law could not, under any circumstances, have been the James Highley (son of James, Jr.) born in 1827. See Chapter XVII.

The writer is informed by an uncle, W. F. Johnston, that the James Highley of LaPorte County was a cousin of Wright Highley, this Wright having been a son of James and Mary (Wright) Highley. This substantiates the writer's statement that James of LaPorte County, must have been a generation later. His relationship to Wright, indicates a possibility that he, too, as well as Wright, could have been a grandson of James Highley, Sr.

James Highley of LaPorte County is said to have had a store in St. Joseph when that place was at the end of the railroad. He outfitted many of the '49 overland wagons, and although he never wrote back to LaPorte County, some of the people coming back told Wright Highley, then a resident of LaPorte County, about James in St. Joseph. James is said to have had sons in both armies in the Civil War.
